

How relevant is open education for refugees?

Experience and discussion from the Erasmus+ project MOONLITE

Co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme
of the European Union

We are ...

Tatiana Codreanu CNRS - Centre national de la recherche scientifique, ENS de Lyon, France

Alastair Creelman, Linnaeus University, Sweden

Corina Löwe, Linnaeus University, Sweden

Timothy Read, UNED, Madrid, Spain

Plus the rest of the MOONLITE team

Project
Partners

Linnæus University

Web2learn
CONSULTANTS

Objectives

- To critically address the relevance of open education for the integration of refugees in Europe
- To discuss and raise awareness of the opportunities that open education offers for the integration and inclusion of refugees
- To harvest good practice and practical applications.

Our workspace

<https://padlet.com/alacre/moonlite>

Group discussion 1

What are the main benefits and obstacles of using open education to provide relevant education for refugees?

Group discussion 2

- Have initiatives for refugees successfully connected the dots by understanding refugees' context and needs? (e.g. the real working world in a country for job seekers)
- Do MOOCs offer products or services that refugees are looking for in terms of language learning ?

Let's continue on Facebook ...

MOOCs 4 Social Inclusion & Employability

 moonlite

The logo for Moonlite, featuring a circular icon composed of blue dashed lines to the left of the word 'moonlite' in a bold, black, sans-serif font.

<https://moonliteproject.eu/>